Titusville Morning Herald.

Titusville, Thursday, Jan. 14, 1869.

READING MATTER ON EVERY PAGE.

Varieties.

—Sherry's theatrical troupe will soon return to Titusville.

—Horace Greeley and Mark Twain are engaged to lecture in Franklin.

—Miss Kate Fisher takes a benefit to-night at Corinthian hall, in the character of Mazeppa.

—The Common Council were without a quorum last evening, and no business was transacted.

—Tickets for Anna Dickinson's lecture can be obtained at Hurd's this afternoon. Reserved seats 75 cents.

—Senator Lowry has introduced a bill for erecting a new county out of parts of Crawford, Venango and Warren.

—There will be services in the Presbyterian Church Sunday next. The pastor, Rev. William Howell Taylor, is expected home to-morrow.

—There will be a grand opening party at the Downer House, Corry, this evening. The house is large and well situated and arranged, and is opened to the public under charge of K. J. Loomis, proprietor.

—The "bulls" in oil have it again. There was another advance of twenty-five cents at this point yesterday, sales having been made at $6.00. Holders were asking $6.25 at nine o'clock last evening. Oil $6.00. Whew!

—Selton's troupe offer a fine bill to-night, consisting of the beatiful historical drama by Sir Walter Scott, entitled "Rob Roy, or Auld Lang Syne," and the inimitable farce of "Acting Mad, or the Stage Struck Tailor."

—Jacob Spinner of Warren, was instantly killed on Thursday last, by the upsetting of his sleigh, while descending a hill. He was thrown against a tree, the sleigh falling upon him, crushing his ribs and fracturing his skull.

—Mr. David Harris and wife arrived in the steamer China from Liverpool and reached Titusville last evening. Mr. Harris was a brother of Isaac Harris, deceased, and was en route for Titusville on his wedding voyage, when the accident to Mr. Isaac Harris occurred.

—A. B. Richmond, Esq., delivered a highly interesting lecture at Meadville on Tuesday evening, for the benefit of the soldiers' monument fund. His subject was "Crawford County's Roll of Honor." The lecture is to be repeated in Titusville, on some future occasion, in behalf of the same object.

—Charley O'Bail, the only surviving son of Cornplanter, died on the 31st of December, and was buried on the 2d inst. He always maintained that he was born during the "big war," undoubtedly meaning the Revolution, and must have been upwards of eighty years old. With him the line of chiefs of the Cornplanter Indians becomes extinct.

—Building associations are being organized in various cities in Pennsylvania. We hope the ball will be set in motion here. An association of this kind would be a valuable auxilary to the business interests of the place, and so far as the laboring classes are concerned, the best savings bank that can be devised.

—The Record reports an accident at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, about eighteen miles below Franklin. The engine on a passenger train bound up, got out of steam, and the train was run into by a freight train coming up. The sleeping car in the rear was smashed up. A lady passenger was severely injured. She is said to be the only person injured.

—At a family gathering at the house of L. J. Drake, of Athens township, on the 7th inst., there were forty members present. James Drake settled in Eastern Crawford thirty-eight years ago. A correspondent of the Republican says: James Drake, Dr. Taylor, Ellis Root, Jonah Edson, Abraham Wheeler, and Joseph King, were the first and for a long time the only men, to break in upon the Athens wilderness. James Drake, Dr. Taylor and A. Wheeler are alive and enjoying a vigorous old age. King, Root and Edson have passed to their rest, each at an advanced age. Dr. Taylor is in his 83d year, Abraham Wheeler in his 77th, and now living with his fourth wife. James Drake is in his 73d, his wife in her 71st year, and their family circle now numbers some forty members, and what is singular, death has never broken their ranks. They are all located in Athens township, and within a circle of two miles, and are all Republicans.

Manufacturing Enterprises.

The importance of manufactures to the growth and prosperity of a place cannot be overrated. Even the auxiliary advantages of a new county are of far less account in a material sense than the establishment of manufactures. The city of Scranton furnishes a good practical illustration of the benefits resulting from manufacturing enterprises. Its furnaces, foundries and rolling mills have within a period of ten years concentrated there a population of over 20,000. The Republican of that city, one of the ablest and most enterprising papers in the State, is now urging the monied men of Scranton to encourage the introduction of new industrial enterprises there, and remarks that with the inauguration of General Grant's administration a general revival and stimulation of trade and manufactures is expected throughout the country. We shall soon begin to realize the advantages of a settled government policy, under which, it is believed, our national resources will be developed with astonishing rapidity, and the land blessed with great prosperity. The vexed question of the public finances now remains the only obstacle to the undertaking of new enterprises, and the expansion of the several branches of trade and manufactures. Under the lead of General Grant we may expect an early solution of even this difficult problem.

What preparations are monied men making to encourage the introduction of new industrial enterprises here? The prospective growth and destiny of our city depends upon the activity and increase of manufacturing establishments. It should be the policy of business men to encourage the introduction of new and varied kinds of factories. We should invite the investment of foreign capital here in such pursuits. Practical and enterprising men should be encouraged to establish themselves in our midst, and our business community should assist them, when necessary, by expending some of the surplus means in contributing to build shops, mills, and factories, which if properly managed can here find a remunerative field for operation.

Too much importance cannot be attached to this policy, and upon the extent of its adoption will depend, in a great measure, the ultimate destiny of this city. It is not enough that the several manufacturing interests already located here should extend their operations. We need a greater number to stimulate our growth before it shall reach the high expectations of many of our citizens. The natural advantages of our location are amply sufficient to make a large and important inland city. Every feasible project for the manufacture of articles needed for home consumption, and of other branches which can here find especial advantages, should be welcomed by our people. We anticipate the time with pleasure when the means for building, now so prevalent, and which is to do so much for the improvement of the city, shall have accommodated all our wants; and capital shall begin to seek remunerative investment in the increase of our manufacturing establishments.

Changes in the U. S. Senate.

Twenty two United States Senators, one-third of the entire Senate as now constituted, will go out of office on the 4th of March next. They are: Bayard of Delaware, Buckalew of Pennsylvania, Chandler of Michigan, Conness of California, Dixon of Connecticut, Doolittle of Wisconsin, Edmunds of Vermont, Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, Henderson of Missouri, Hendricks of Indiana, Morgan of New York, Morril of Maine, Patterson of Tennessee, Ramsey of Minnesota, Sprague of Rhode Island, Stewart of Nevada, Sumner of Massachusetts, Tipton of Nebraska, Van Winkle of West Virginia, Wade of Ohio, Welch of Florida, and White of Maryland.

Of this number six are Democrats and sixteen Republicans. Eight of the prospective vacancies have already been filled, and fourteen remain to be provided for.

Of the eight new Senators already elected, two are now members of the Senate, and are chosen for new terms. These are Edmunds, of Vermont, and Sprague, of Rhode Island, both Republicans. Abijah Gilbert, of Florida, Republican, has also been chosen to succeed A. S. Welch, also a Republican. Gov. Buckingham, of Connecticut, Republican, has been elected in place of Dixon, Democrat, and Brownlow, Republican, of Tennessee, in place of Patterson, also a Democrat.

On the other hand, the Hon. Allen G. Thurman, Democrat, has been chosen by the Legislature of Ohio to succeed Wade, Republican; and Eugene Casserly, also a Democrat, is to take the seat of John Conness, of California, a Republican. Maryland has also chosen William T. Hamilton in place of William Pinckney Whyte, both Democrats. So far the new elections leave the political character of the Senate the same as before.

Of the fourteen retiring Senators for whom successors have yet to be provided, four are Democrats—namely, Bayard of Delaware, Buckalew of Pennsylvania, Doolittle of Wisconsin, and Hendricks of Indiana. Bayard will very likely be re-elected, but each of the others is sure to be succeeded by a Republican. We are not aware, however, who the new Senators from Wisconsin and Indiana are likely to be. Of the remaining ten whose terms expire with the present Congress, all of whom are Republicans, the place of one only—Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey—will be filled by a Democrat. The rest will all be succeeded by Republicans.

The net political result of all these changes will be to take two votes from the Democratic minority of the Senate and add them to the Republican majority.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

WHAT WILL GRANT DO?

"What is General Grant going to do?" and "Who are to be called his Cabinet?" are the two great questions at present perplexing and puzzling Congressmen and politicians. General Grant has been approached again and again on the subject, but no one, so far, is able to discern the particular man on whom his eye is placed for this position or that. In the course of conversation yesterday with two members of the House, he said: "So far as the Cabinet and my views of public men and things in general are concerned, you had better consult the columns of the New York World." General Grant has also said: "There has been a great deal of speculation as to the probable appointments which I shall make. But Senator Pomeroy hit the mark closer than any one else when he related the story that Mr. Lincoln used to tell about his Cabinet experience: 'If I had to form my Cabinet again I should see that I had more than one voice in it.'" Gen. Grant then said that this story, attributed to Mr. Lincoln, reminded him of another story which President Taylor used to tell about his Cabinet. "A man came to me," said Taylor, "and asked me for an appointment. I told him that I should consider it, and if possible comply with his request, asking him to call again in a few days. He came to me and I had to tell him that I could do nothing for him, that I had submitted it to my Cabinet, and they outvoted me." These are the only positive indications that Gen. Grant has yet given in reference to the formation of his Cabinet. If they indicate anything, it is that he will be President de facto as well as de jure. Some members of Congress are beginning to see it in this light.

NOTHING KNOWN.

It is the universal remark that no one can remember a similar time in the history of incoming administrations, when the commencement of its official functions were so near, and yet so little known concerning the personnel of the new government. General Grant is proving to be "a remarkable receptacle of information," said a prominent officer the other day, "he drinks it all in, but vouchsafes never a word in reply to indicate the decision of his mind." "Yet," continued the same person who has had much conversation with General Grant, "I have no doubt but that he has his decision generally made up, and the men for the Cabinet fixed upon, subject to such changes as new information and maturer consideration may suggest." The source of this utterance is such as to give it much weight, but as I cannot reveal it, your readers will have to take my word for it. Gen Grant does not discuss names for the Cabinet with his callers. With those who have a right to talk on the subject, he discusses principles and ideas, which should govern the selection of the men. He has said, I believe, that in selecting a Cabinet he would be governed by the same consideration which governed him in selecting his staff and his Generals, to-wit: Their entire fitness for the work they had to perform.

How New York Went Democratic.

From the New York Sun.

The Congressional Committee here investigating the late frauds, have a pile of testimony sufficient to present politically many prominent policians here, and smaller lights innumerable. They have evidence to prove that not less than 36,000 fraudulent votes were cast in this city by repeaters alone. The business was reduced to a science, and had it not received such a sudden check by Marshal Murray, there is no doubt it would have become of general application in all the large cities of the Union. By his timely action the Marshal prevented the 30,000 from becoming 60,000. Several of the witnesses swore that they voted from nine to thirty-nine times each. The committee intend to probe the thing to the bottom, and have summoned nearly 400 witnesses, upon the one question of using fraudulent papers. The committee have the testimony of the printer who manufactured these documents, and who had his presses running from the 1st of June almost up to the day of election. He printed over 100,000 of them. They were disposed of in many cases indiscriminately, falling into the hands of honest men and rogues alike; 175 were voluntarily returned into Marshal Murray's hands by men who dared not use them. From the Compet House, a well known political resting place on Third avenue, 153 persons were registered and 179 voted there from, as appears by testimony. The committee on Saturday summoned the clerk of this house to bring the hotel register, but nothing could be made out of it. Last year's register had been destroyed, and the new one doctored so as to make it all right. Jackson Hall, in Second avenue and Thirty-second street, owned and run by Sheriff O'Brien, has been riddled by the Committee. Two hundred persons are proved to have slept there the night before election, and to have voted therefrom on election day. The Committee have evidence also, that the work of destroying naturalization evidence is going forward in the County Clerk's office with commendable energy. When the Committee get through with their investigation here, they will go to Brooklyn, and probably to Jersey City, to pursue it there also. They have testimony to show that New York repeaters went to Jersey City.

On Saturday an effort was made to pack the hall of the United States Court house where the committees are sitting. It was filled with rougns, shoulder-hitters and prize-fighters, and it was intended to block the passage in such a way that ingress or egress would have been impossible. But Marshall Murray sent to a police station for a detail of ten policemen, and twenty-four were furnished. They cleared the hall of all persons not authorized to be there, and kept order during the remainder of the day. There can be no doubt that their presence prevented a terrible row. The Marshal had his deputies on the ground.

On and after this date our store will close at 7½ o'clock in the evening.

FUNK, JACKSON & FULLER.

LETTER FROM MEADVILLE.

Court of Sessions—Old Faces and New Faces—Criminal Cases—Joke by John Mickey—Fun at the McHenry House.

MEADVILLE, Jan. 13, 1868.

Editors Morning Herald:

The inexorable summons of the law "to appear at the Court of Quarter Sessions," ending up with the somewhat inexplicable warning of "and this you are not to omit under a penalty of one hundred pounds," (whether of old iron or double refined gold it does not state,) has again brought me to the city of Meadville during court week.

The new court house being still in process of erection, the courts are held in the Museum concert hall, belonging to A. B. Richmond, Esq. Hon. S. P. Johnson of Warren, President Judge, is on the bench this term, and the Associate Judges are Hon. Wm. Davis of Meadville, and Hon. E. H. Chase of Titusville. The usual number of attorneys are bustling about the court room, pretending to be absorbed in the most important business, an exhibition of "fictitious values" very accurately described by Dickens in his inimitable account of Justice Stareleigh's court at the opening of the celebrated case of Bardell vs. Pickwick. The tipstaves are here with their sticks pounding on the floor, commanding "Silence" in stentorian tones whenever the room is the stillest, and "making no sign" when the greatest hub-bub prevails. Other officials stump about the room performing various little offices, such as filling an ink stand, bringing a pitcher of water or moving a chair an inch or two, with an air of importance and responsibility, as if the fate of the nation depended upon the solemnity with which these functions are performed. All wear a look of antediluvian antiquity which suggests a belief that the memory of man runneth not back to the time when these solemn individuals did not add their funereal presence to the Court, and their bronzed and petrified appearance also suggests a fear that the present generation will not live to see the day when they will be replaced by fresher looking specimens of humanity. Capt. S. M. Davis, the new District Attorney, has entered upon his duties and was engaged yesterday in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Charles Gill, charged with receiving $140 stolen from Charles Smach, on the 20th of December last, in a bowling saloon in this city. It was proved that a man named Kelly was the thief, but Gill was arrested on suspicion of receiving the stolen funds, he having in his possession a considerable amount of money that he could not satisfactorily prove how he obtained. The Commonwealth, however, failed to make out a case, though the circumstances were very suspicious, and the jury, under instructions of the Court, rendered a verdict of not guilty, without leaving their seats.

Another case tried yesterday was that of the Commonwealth vs. John W. Mickey indicted for larceny in stealing a railroad ticket from an emigrant on the passenger train of the Atlantic & Great Western Railway in December last. The evidence showed that the defendant went through the emigrant car playing conductor, demanding to be shown the tickets of the passengers, and finally took one from one of the emigrants. He was ingeniously defended by A. B. Richmond, Esq., and the jury after being out two hours, brought in a verdict of not guilty. A pretty good joke connected with the case is, that some of the "good sisters" of Meadville held a prayer meeting at the jail the morning of the trial, when Mickey, under the influence of religious convictions, confessed his guilt and said he deserved to go to the penitentiary for it. Luckily for him, however, this fact did not become known at the court room until after the jury had rendered their verdict.

You will remember that about a year ago a certain Prof. Anderson, a traveling juggler, had a trick played on him by his agent, who mysteriously disappeared with the Professor's wife and some two or three thousand dollars of his money. This feat of juggling not being in accordance with the ideas of the Professor, he sought the aid of electricity and had a dispatch telegraphed all over the country that he had committed suicide! This brought Mrs. Anderson and her lover back to take charge of the remains of the defunct Professor, when lo and behold, the supposed corpse confronted the culprits with a warrant and demanded his ducats. The affair was compromised, of course, and the professor recovered his money and his wife also. It seems that the emeute was not so serious but that Anderson kept the amorous agent in his employ, and the three are now in this city, whither they have come to attend court on a case of some kind, the particulars of which I have not learned

A ludicrous case of verdancy occurred at the McHenry House a few weeks ago, as follows. A couple from Oakland came to town, got married in the evening, proceeded to the hotel, and at a late hour were found in the sitting room by one of the colored waiters. The newly made benedict asked the gentleman of color "how soon their bed would be brought in." Sambo politely responded by informing him that if he wished a room he must register his name, when the clerk would assign him one. He accordingly repaired to the office and inscribed his name and the maiden name of his wife below it. Insisting upon having a room together, the clerk inquired if he and the lady were married, when he replied in the affirmative, and pulled from his pocket the marriage certificate! The question of legality being settled the happy pair were conducted to an apartment. An hour or two after a strong smell of gas sent the night watchman hunting for the leak. It was traced to the room of the newly wedded pair. Demanding admission and asking the cause of the escaping gas, the rural swain replied, pointing to the gas burner, "that he blew it out and then the darned thing smelt so bad that he put his stocking over it." Sure enough, there was the stocking, drawn over the burner and tied down with a shoe string!

Yours truly, "NO CARDS."

An Incident of Dickens' Readings in London

A correspondent of the London Herald describes a scene of confusion which occurred last month during one of Charles Dickens' readings at St. James' Hall:

Mr. Dickens, who was advertised to read his "Christmas Carol" and the "Trial Scene from Pickwick," made his apperance with tolerable punctuality and commenced his reading, but the noise made by the ingress of people to the stalls was so unbearable that he was compelled, out of consideration for better behaved people who had paid lower prices, to come to a dead stop. For fully ten minutes, with admirable patience, he remained silent leaning on his reading desk, but still the irritating influx of dilatory snobs continued, the audience in the galleries, who had been waiting quietly for two hours for this intellectual treat, testifying their indignation by means of groans, cries of 'snobs,' 'cads,' 'Why didn't you put up the shutters earlier?' &c. One corpulent old gentleman whose ears caught this storm of yells, on entering the hall, looked towards Mr. Dickens, evidently conceiving him to be the object of the demonstration, but soon discovered his error."

Mr. Dickens has accepted an invitation to a banquet in his honor at Liverpool, to be given in April.

By paying a few dollars every month you can soon be the owner of a WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINE and have the use of it while you are paying for it. Call and see.

E. T. HALL, Agent, No. 7 Brown' Row, Franklin street, Near the Bush House.

Letter From Paris.

PARIS, Dec. 4th, 1868.

There is but little news of importance to communicate this week. The weather during the past month has been unusually bad; fog, rain and mud have choked, drenched, and bespattered Parisians, in a manner to which Londoners alone, are supposed to be accustomed. From Pau and Nice the reports are equally uninviting. The Emperor, Empress, and Court are still at Compiegne, surrounded by the third series of guests, who have partaken of the imperial hospitality. Patti before leaving for St. Petersburg will, it is said, give a concert, the profits of which is to form a nucleus for the erection of a monument to Rossini. The baritone, Graziani, who has been unwell for some time, fears returning to St. Petersburg; he will be replaced by Stella. The theatres are now attracting large audiences; chesnuts are being roasted at the corners for the streets; soup kitchens for the poor have been opened; pere Hyacinthe has commenced his course of sermons at Notre Dame; old fancy dresses have been renovated by costumiers for the bals costumes during the Carnival; all of which are sure signs that we are at that period of the year when extravagance and want, religious display and unchecked vice, are exposed to public view. At this season of the year, the disaffected refrain from agitation; so that for weeks to come we are not likely to have much political excitement.

Neither the musical nor financial worlds had recovered from the shock caused by the deaths of Rossini and Rothschild, when Paris was startled by the sad news received from Augierville, that the distinguished orator, M. Berryer had breathed his last. By profession an avocat, he was respected on both sides of the channel. In 1863, the 50th anniversary of his having exercised the profession of a barrister, a banquet was given in his honor by the Bar of France, and he was invited to a similar demonstration by the barristers of England. Greatly to his own detriment in a pecuniary point of view, he left the Bar for the Tribune, but by all parties, friends as well as political opponents, he was respected and beloved.

The vintage of 1868 will be remembered as one of the best of the present century. At Bordeaux the vintage was bought in many instances as it stood, in others when but partly gathered, in fact, a rush was made for a produce of which the value was unknown. A tonneau of Medoc brought 600 francs, about five francs fifty centimes a bottle. The wine will not be fit for bottling for three years, by which time, it will from deposit and evaporation be considerably diminished in quantity. To this loss must be added, interest on purchase money, expense of warehousing, materials, workmen and retailers' profit, so that the disciples of Bacchus must not hope to enjoy a drop of this Medoc at a less price than eleven francs per bottle.

It has often been remarked that the American traveler possesses a greater amount of comfort when visiting this Capital, than the Englishman, although the latter may be considered as within a stone's throw of Paris. The American bankers offer their compatriots every facility for reunion, reading and writing rooms, an address for their letters, and other conveniences; for the Englishman there does not exist a place where these advantages are combined, and to which he can resort, without fear of being considered an interloper. That which the enterprise of the English has failed to effect, an American now offers for their acceptance. Col. Norton, the American banker, has an English partner, so that English travelers will find themselves at home in Messrs. Norton & Co's new offices, at the corner of the Rue Scribe and the Place de l'Opera. The new offices are splendid, and fitted up on the American and English plan; the reading room, which is perhaps the largest on the continent, is supplied with newspapers from every quarter of the globe.

The Baudin affair which at one time threatened to assume an importance of which it was undeserving, has calmed down in a most remarkable degree. Several journals were prosecuted by the Government, as we believe unadvisedly; for the trials gave opportunity for speeches by barristers protected by their robes, of ten thousand times more seditious tendency, than anyone else would have dared to utter or journal, unless desirous of instant suppression, have ventured to promulgate.

American securities are becoming more appreciated. Germans are large speculators, four-fifths of the $600,000,000 held in Europe, are in their hands. The daily sales at Frankfort, Hamburg, Bremen and Berlin, compare favorably with those in New York. Vienna and Rotterdam operate largely in these bonds. In Paris, the sales although quoted on the Bourse, are confined almost exclusively to American buyers resident in Paris. Were the rules of the Bourse more liberal, without doubt visitors from the States would greatly increase the daily business. American bonds have kept up in price, through the fluctuations of the past three months, and are at present quoted higher on the Paris Bourse, than at any previous period.

THE GIRARD ESTATE.—The heirs of the late Stephen Girard, of Philadelphia, are contesting the right of the city of Philadelphia to use the proceeds of the Girard estate for municipal purposes, under the will. They allege that the bequest was made to the old city, as it existed at the time of Girard's decease, and by extending its boundaries and including the suburbs the intention of the will is defeated, another city than Philadelphia, as it was, sharing the benefits. The estate is valued at thirty millions, and the income at $140,000 above the expense of maintaining the Girard Orphan's College, for which purpose the income of the estate was primarily devoted by the testator. The arguments in this case were made in the Court last week.

LOCAL NOTICES.

THE Museum still continues to be the rage of the day. We were somewhat amused at the inquiry of a western gentleman the other day, who desired to know if the Titusville Museum had not lately received an acquisition to its already large stock of curiosities from the great Barnum Museum. Since the late fire, he actually thought the Barnum of Titusville and New York were identical, and that these wonders that were saved were the same on exhibition. We can assure the gentleman from personal knowledge that the two are entirely distinct and that the choice curiosities at once so amusing and instructive which are located here in Titusville, never saw the inside of that institution away down East. These wonders are gathered together from all parts of the world for the benefit of eight score, and we are glad to know that hundreds are availing themselves of the advantages thus presented by Dr. Hoffman.

THE

RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

First Mortgage Bonds

AT PAR.

NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES

Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the Winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 460 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt that the whole

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED. The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2,000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.

Besides a donation from the Government of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $23,128,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 5th, and $[illegible],000 Dec 14th

Gov'ment Aid—Security of the Bonds

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.

The price for the present is PAR, and accrued interest, at six per cent. from July 1st, 1868, in currency.

HENRY E. WRIGLEY'S
NEW AND COMPLETE MAP of the Pennsylvania Oil Region,
NOW PUBLISHING.

Will be ready for delivery in February. It is Five Feet Square, representing over 700 Square Miles of Oil Territory in Crawford, Warren, Forest and Venango counties, showing each farm in separate colors as well as all recent divisions and the names of the present owners. Also, the Railroads with present Stations, having upon it a small map showing connections with New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Washington; also all the Pipe Lines and Tankage, making it valuable for both producer and shipper.

The exact outline of the precise spots where oil is or has been obtained, is distinctly noted over the whole map by a separate color.

A pocket photograph of the map will be furnished free to each subscriber, and the first and best copies of the map will be delivered to them without further cost—in the order of their subscription.

Prices—On Plain Strong Paper (colored) $10.00; Mounted on Cloth with Rollers, $12.00; in Library or Pocket Form, $15.00.

OFFICE AT THE RED PLANING MILL.

Heretofore we have in our circulars, alluded to a series of experiments being made with Nitro Glycerine and other explosives. We now announce that we have succeeded, even beyond our most sanguine expectations as regards the safety of handling, also the unprecedented force and power manifested by a skillful combination whereby the size of the Torpedo is lessened and the force many times multiplied and are now prepared to operate on wells with any of the above named explosives either with our improved combination or our old Combination Torpedo, which has a record of utility too well known to need mention here.

60-lb. Nitro Glycerine, equal to 64 lbs. powder.....$150
16-lb. " " 128 lbs. powder..... 200
Combination equal to 196 lbs. powder............ 150
Improved combination, eq to 150 lbs. powder..... 200
Double combination, equal to 200 to 1000 lbs. powder.....................$200 to 800

CAUTION.—The public is cautioned against employing any but the regularly authorized agents of this Company, since their patent, according to the recent decision of the Commissioner of Patents for the United States, covers the use of the Torpedo and all other explosive materials for oil wells, and the use of such materials by other parties is a direct infringement of their rights, and we shall hold land or working interests to a strict accountability for such infringements.

RUE'S PATENT INJECTOR FOR BOILERS.
The undersigned has the exclusive agency for selling RUE'S PATENT INJECTOR for Northwestern Pennsylvania. By the use of this ingenious appliance, the necessity of a heater and pump is obviated, as it will heat and inject into a boiler 5 to twenty-five gallons of water per minute according to the size of injector used. It can be connected without difficulty and will not get out of order. It can be seen in operation at Bryan, Dillingham & Co's Shops in this city, and at the Monitor Oil Works, Petroleum Centre.

TO OIL OPERATORS.
I have invented a new and useful instrument for Searching and Scraping
the walls in Oil Wells, removing the Paraffine or other substance from the sides of wells, and indicating the locality of any Crevice, be it ever so small. This has been used in a number of Wells, and all who have seen its workings pronounce it to be far preferable to anything now in use, as it will make the same record in coming up as when lowered into the well, and be the same the second time as the first, and will not indicate a Crevice for every Spall that may have been broken out of the rock when the well was being drilled, and thus lead the well owners to Explode Torpedoes or Tube their wells in the wrong place and occasioning a great expenditure of time and money without any beneficial results.
CREVICE SEARCHER & SCRAPER
I will guarantee to all who may favor me with their Custom, that they will be satisfied that the record furnished them of their wells is correct and reliable.
All orders directed to me at Titusville, Box 366, or left at my residence on Church Run will be promptly attended to. ELIAS BRAGG.

Dr. R. De Cotrnonville's
EAGLE BITTERS.
When a gentle Stimulant, Tonic or Alterative is required, this Compound is unequalled. Many Physicians have pronounced it infallible as a remedy for Fever and Ague, Dyspeptic Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Costiveness, Sick and Nervous Headaches, Sea Sickness, Jaundice, and all maladies arising from a disordered state of the stomach or liver. It is also an excellent Blood Purifier.
A small wine-glass full before each meal, is a proper dose. Manufactured and for Sale by
